

ACR 210 : TROUBLESHOOTING HVAC/R SYSTEMS

This course provides instruction in the use of various meters and gauges used in the HVAC/R industry. Emphasis is placed on general service procedures, system diagnosis, corrective measure, methods of leak detection, system evacuation, charging, and performance checks. Upon completion, students should be able to perform basic troubleshooting of HVAC/R systems.

Credits 3

Lecture Hours 1

Lab Hours 4