

Band and Chorus

These musical organizations perform at school concerts, and college and community programs. They also conduct concerts for area community events and organizations. Students may receive scholarships and academic credit for participation.