CIS 171 : LINUX I

This course presents fundamental applications in Linux. Included in this course are skills development for the OS installation and setup, recompile techniques, system configuration settings, file/folder structures and types, run levels, basic network applications, and scripting. Additionally, the course presents security from an administrative and user consideration.

Credits  3
Lecture Hours  3
Lab Hours  0